

KU-KLUXISM!

Outrages in Kentucky.

Four Men Killed and Several Others Wounded.

The city was filled with rumors last night of a terrible outrage said to have been committed by a party of Ku-Klux near Stamping Ground, Scott county. It is said that the party was composed of nineteen armed and masked men, and that, without provocation, they attacked a number of negroes who were quietly passing along the road on their way to the village. The negroes, though unarmed, defended themselves in many respects, and the statement that the maskers rode upon the negroes, and commenced an indiscriminate firing into the crowd, killing three of them.

It is further said that after committing this outrage, the maskers went to the Forks of Elk-horn, about three miles south of Stamping Ground, where they overtook another party of negroes, and fired upon them also, wounding three of them. According to the story, this party happened to be prepared for such an emergency, and returned the fire, killing one of the attacking party, and causing the others to beat a hasty retreat. It is said that the negroes proved to be a match for the "Forks," a member of a family in high standing in the county.

During yesterday negroes were reported to be constantly arriving at Frankfort from the portion of Scott county where the disturbance occurred, and that they seemed much alarmed by the wild rumors of the wholesale murder of their race by bands of the dreadful Ku-Klux—Louisville Journal.

THE WAY IT IS DONE.—A correspondent writing from Americus, (24 Congressional district of Georgia), says that on the 1st day of the late election there was but little trouble, but that the "Forks" were in the country, and that they dared to work for their ticket. After going into details about the numerous escapes from death by Republicans, he alludes to the troops sent for their protection. The troops sent here were summoned to camp. From that time they were more frightened than the citizens. They were told that if one white man was shot every one of them (the troops) would be immediately assassinated. They remained about one hour, and returned to camp. From that time the Democrats had every thing their own way. In several other counties not a single Republican vote was cast.

Major Whitley, it will be remembered, was the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, and he would have had, in a fair election, about 8,000 majority. No certificate has yet been given to either candidate.—Chronicle.

WILMINGTON, Jan. 19th.—The commander of the Federal troops in Robeson county has telegraphed to Washington that the situation is a small number now in that county being unable to cope with the outlaws. As a measure of precaution, a squad of soldiers accompany each train on the Wilmington, Charlotte, and Raleigh Railroad. It is contended that but little can be done toward the capture of the outlaws without a large body of men.

We learn from the Virginia papers that a drunken student in the University of Virginia was shot by a colored man last Monday. One of the local papers in the county, which is a good paper, and headed its account, "Run Nigger, Run!" One of the other local papers, however, has the decency to denounce the shooting as an outrage.

The Lash in Virginia.

Indignation Meeting of the Citizens of Fairfax County.

In our issue of the 12th we printed a clip from the Alexandria Gazette, announcing the public whipping of an offender, so sentenced by the court. With a view to show the feelings of the people we print the following:

The citizens of Fairfax County, Virginia, are requested to meet at the Ostrander School-house, on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock, to give expression to the public judgment in regard to the late unwarranted judicial proceeding of the County Judge of this county, in sentencing a citizen of the United States to a barbarous and degrading punishment, and to take such action as the meeting may resolve upon, with a view to an appeal to some controlling authority to prevent a repetition of the outrage.

Fairfax Court House, Va., Jan. 19, 1871.
J. M. Foster, Blocker Casfield, George Haux, J. H. G. Roberts, Wm. Sager, A. J. Sager, N. O. Bond, and others, call to order.

Pursuant to the above call the citizens assembled at the residence of Mr. Ostrander, (the authorities having denied the use of the school-house) when, upon motion, A. J. Sager was elected to the chair, and Mr. Bond, clerk and secretary. The object of the meeting having been stated by the secretary, the following resolutions were read and unanimously adopted: Whereas, at the January term of our County Court the president of the United States, in defiance of the constitutional provision designed to protect the persons of citizens from such degrading punishment; and whereas a failure on our part to protest against this act is an indorsement of this judicial outrage; therefore, Resolved, That while we are ever ready to discharge the obligation resting upon us to aid the authorities in the punishment of all offenders against the law, we hereby declare our manifest duty to condemn this attempt to revive the penalties of a barbarous system lately buried under the condemnation of the civilized world.

Resolved, That regarding the Constitution of the United States as the supreme law of the land, and the sole safeguard of our rights and liberties, we here renew our pledges of obedience and fidelity to the same, and we hereby declare our satisfaction from the county official any proof of defiance for that authority.

Resolved, That the people are the proper enforcers of the law, and those who have been appointed to wield the public authority, and we hereby notify our political opponents that neither threats nor menaces shall deter us from the exercise of this long sanctioned right.

Freedmen's Schools.

The Freedmen's Commission renews, at the beginning of a new year, its urgent appeal for aid in carrying on the work of schools and Christian teaching among the colored people of the South. Since the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, aid given by the Government, i. e., $10 per month for each thirty pupils, is withdrawn, and the schools and churches are supported by individual subscription.

It is hardly proper to urge this cause upon the charity of the readers. It is a matter of charity, but of debt on one hand and self-defense on the other. We owe it to the negro to lift the weight of ignorance from him which we imposed, and from the day that we gave him the right of suffrage we owe it to ourselves to render him fit to use it.

The strongest argument in favor of exertion on their behalf is the eagerness of the blacks to help themselves, in the account of which every report of the Commission coincides. In Georgia, night-schools were supported by the field-hands, gray-headed old men coming after the day's work with the children, each bringing his candle to light the shanty, and paying his penny for the oil. In the South, too, the negroes are impulsive race, as easily disheartened as encouraged; and that these first years of emancipation which have been a flood-tide in their lives, of which it would be well to take advantage. "What help you give me in the next few years, while the duller negro is roused to a new ambition," says one of themselves, "will send us further on our way than any urging or spurring afterward."—N. Y. Tribune.

VOL. II.—NO. 4.

Thomas Garrett.

[From the Wilmington (Del.) Commercial.]

Thomas Garrett, who died full of years and honor, on the morning of January 25, at the ripe age of eighty-one, was a man of no common character. He was a native of Yorkshire, his youth up, and though the grand old count numbered among its supporters poets, sages, and statesmen, it had no more faithful worker in its ranks than Thomas Garrett.

He has been suffering for several years from a disease of the bladder, which frequently caused him most acute anguish, and has several times threatened his life. The severe pain attending the disease, and the frequent surgical operations it rendered necessary, have undermined his strength, and he died on the 25th when he was prostrated by his last illness. He has continued in the possession of his faculties to the last, and has frequently expressed his grief and indignation at the condition of his country.

Yesterday he was found to be sinking very rapidly. Just before midnight, last night, he commenced to speak, and some of those in attendance went close to his bedside. He was evidently in some pain, and said to the side of the river. He then breathed calmly on for some time. About half an hour later one of those in attendance ceased to hear his breathing, and, bending over him, found that his soul had departed.

He retained a good deal of his strength through his illness, and was able to get up from his bed, every day, with the assistance of one person.

He will be buried in the Friends' graveyard, corner of Fourth and West streets, on Saturday next, at 3 o'clock, P. M., and in accordance with a written memorandum of an agreement made by him a year ago with them, the colored people will bear him to the grave, they having solicited of him that honor.

He was born of Quaker parents, in Upper Darby, Delaware county, Pennsylvania, on the 21st of August, 1789, on a farm still in the possession of the family. His father, though a farmer, had been a scribe and edge-tool maker, and Thomas learned of him the trade, and his knowledge of it afterwards proved of the utmost advantage to him.

He grew up and married at Darby, his wife being Sarah Sharpless, and in 1820 they came to Wilmington to live, bringing with them several children, most of whom still live here. Some years after his arrival here his wife died, and he was married a second time, his second wife being Rachel Mendenhall, who died in April, 1868, beloved and regretted by all who knew her.

His business career was one of vicissitude, but generally and ultimately successful, for he made the whole of the comfortable competence of which he died possessed after he was sixty years of age. While in the beginning of his business career, as an iron merchant in this city, he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January, 1830, he commenced to work in the iron business, and he was successful in his trade, and by reducing prices of iron to cost, but Mr. Garrett, nothing dismayed, employed another person to attend his store, put on his leather apron, took to his anvil, and on the 1st of January,